

Designers Can't Stop Talking About: Easter Bunny Chairs are dominating decor feeds as we head into Spring.

For anyone new to this trend, these whimsical chairs were created Stefano Giovannoni, produced by Qeeboo's design house.

You can find them in a rainbow of finishes, from pale tones like baby blue to intense neons such as hot pink.

Why are they such a great Easter pick? It's that playful rabbit shape that connects with the seasonal theme, yet still working all year.

These chairs works for both adults and children — it's furniture and sculpture in one. They're perfect for the garden, others style them in living rooms or bedrooms.

Pricing changes depending on size, with smaller models for children and adult-sized models for reading corners.

If you love statement seating, you'll want to get in early.
